IMSSA ARBITRATION DIGEST

Since 1985, over 2000 arbitrations concerning industrial relations disputes have been conducted under the auspices of the Independent Mediation Service of South Africa (IMSSA), whose arbitration panel includes many of South Africa's leading labour lawyers and industrial relations practitioners. The IMSSA Arbitration Digest contains a detailed compilation of these awards.

The Digest is designed to serve the needs of all those involved in the arbitration process, including the arbitrators themselves, union officials, industrial relations practitioners and lawyers. It is divided into ten chapters covering -

- the practice and procedure of arbitrations
- the rules of evidence
- interest disputes
- retrenchment
- collective bargaining

Contents

Each volume contains a selection of awards (with flynotes) pertaining to the particular subject heading as well as a subject, party and arbitrator index. Although not every award is treated in the Digest, the coverage of the work is comprehensive.

- grievances
- procedural fairness in dismissal cases
- substantive fairness in dismissal cases
- industrial action
- arbitral remedies

The Editors

- Ingrid de Villiers, a practising labour lawyer and experienced IMSSA arbitrator.
- Robert Lagrange, senior research officer at the Centre for Applied Legal Studies, University of the Witwatersrand, IMSSA arbitrator, additional member of the Industrial court and an industrial relations practitioner.
- Catherine O'Regan, an attorney and professor at the University of Cape Town, who has published in the field of labour law both in South Africa and the United Kingdom.
